(1) WELCOME AND APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Rod Andreason, acting as chair pro tem, welcomed the committee and asked for approval of the minutes. The minutes were approved unanimously.

(2) PROBATE RULE 26.4

Nancy Sylvester introduced new amendments made to Rule 26.4, which the committee discussed and approved to go on to the Supreme Court. During the discussion, several committee members raised concerns regarding how a respondent's objection made using their preferred means of communication would be memorialized and how other parties would receive a copy of the objection. Noting that specific concerns would become clearer over time and use, the committee determined that notice to the other parties of the objection was sufficient and that the language of the rule should be approved without further amendment. Judge Andrew Stone moved to recommend that the Supreme Court take final action on the rule as drafted below. The motion passed unanimously.

Rule 26.4. Provisions governing disclosure and discovery in contested proceedings under Title 75 of the Utah Code.

- (a) Scope. This rule applies to all contested actions arising under Title 75 of the Utah Code.
- (b) Definition. A probate dispute is a contested action arising under Title 75 of the Utah Code.
- (c) Designation of parties, objections, initial disclosures, and discovery.

(c)(1) Designation of Parties. For purposes of Rule 26, the plaintiff in probate proceedings is presumed to be the petitioner in the matter, and the defendant is presumed to be any party ~~filling who has~~ made an objection. Once a probate dispute arises, and based on the facts and circumstances of the case, the court may designate an interested person as plaintiff, defendant, or non-party for purposes of discovery. Only an interested person who has appeared on the record will be treated as a party for purposes of discovery.

(c)(2)(A) Any oral objection ~~must be made at a scheduled hearing on the petition and must~~ then be put into writing and filed with the court within 7 days, unless the written objection has been previously filed with the court. The court may for good cause in a guardianship or conservatorship case accept an objection made using the person's preferred means of communication and document the objection in the court record.

(c)(2)(B) A written objection must set forth the grounds for the objection and any supporting authority, must be filed with the court, and must be mailed to the parties named in the petition and any interested persons, as ~~that term is defined provided~~ in Utah Code § 75-1-201(24), unless the written objection has been previously filed with the court.

(c)(2)(C) An objection made using the person's preferred means of communication under paragraph (c)(2)(A) must also set forth the grounds for the objection and any supporting authority to the extent possible. The court will provide notice of the objection to the parties named in the petition and any interested persons, as that term is defined in Utah Code § 75-1-201.

(c)(2)(D) If the petitioner and objecting party agree to an extension of time to file the written objection, notice of the agreed upon date must be filed with the court.

(c)(2)(E) The court may modify the timing for making an objection in accordance with Rule 6(b).

~~(c)(2)(F)~~ In the event no written or other objection under paragraph (c)(2)(A) is timely filed, the court will act on the original petition upon the petitioner's filing of a request to submit pursuant to Rule 7 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure.

(c)(3) Initial disclosures in guardianship and conservatorship matters.

(c)(3)(A) In addition to the disclosures required by Rule 26(a), and unless included in the petition, the following documents must be served by the party in possession or control of the documents within 14 days after a written objection has been filed:

(c)(3)(A)(i) any document purporting to nominate a guardian or conservator, including a will, trust, power of attorney, or advance healthcare directive, copies of which must be served upon all interested persons; and

(c)(3)(A)(ii) a list of less restrictive alternatives to guardianship or conservatorship that the petitioner has explored and ways in which a guardianship or conservatorship of the respondent may be limited.

This paragraph supersedes Rule 26(a)(2).

(c)(3)(B) The initial disclosure documents must be served on the parties named in the probate petition and the objection and anyone who has requested notice under Title 75 of the Utah Code:

(c)(3)(C) If there is a dispute regarding the validity of an original document, the proponent of the original document must make it available for inspection by any other the contesting party within 14 days of the date of referral to mediation unless the parties agree to a different date.

(c)(3)(D) The court may for good cause modify the content and timing of the disclosures required in this rule or in Rule 26(a) in accordance with Rule 6(b). ~~for any reason justifying departure from these rules.~~

(c)(4) Initial disclosures in all other probate matters.

(c)(4)(A) In addition to the disclosures required by Rule 26(a), and unless included in the petition, the following documents must be served by the party in possession or control of the documents within 14 days after a written objection has been filed: any other document purporting to nominate a personal representative or trustee after death, including wills, trusts, and any amendments to those documents, copies of which must be served upon all interested persons. This paragraph supersedes Rule 26(a)(2).

(c)(4)(B) The initial disclosure documents must be served on the parties named in the probate petition and the objection and anyone who has requested notice under Title 75 of the Utah Code.

(c)(4)(C) If there is a dispute regarding the validity of an original document, the proponent of the original document must make it available for inspection by the contesting party within 14 days of the date of referral to mediation unless the parties agree to a different date.

(c)(4)(D) The court may for good cause modify the content and timing of the disclosures required in this rule or in Rule 26(a) in accordance with Rule 6(b). ~~for any reason justifying departure from these rules.~~

(c)(5) Discovery once a probate dispute arises. Except as provided in this rule or as otherwise ordered by the court, once a probate dispute arises, discovery will proceed pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure, including the other provisions of Rule 26.

(d) Pretrial disclosures under Rule 26(a)(5), objections. The term "trial" in Rule 26(a)(5)(B) also refers to evidentiary hearings for purposes of this rule. ~~No later than 14 days prior to an evidentiary hearing or trial, the parties must serve the disclosures required by Rule 26(a)(5)(A).~~

(3) RULE 100 APPROVAL

The committee briefly discussed Rule 100, which received no comments during the comment period. Judge Clay Stucki moved to recommend that the Supreme Court take final action on the rule as drafted below. Judge Stone seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Rule 100. Coordination of cases pending in district court and juvenile court.

(a) Notice to the court. In a case in which child custody, child support, or parent time is an issue, all parties have a continuing duty to notify the court:

(a)(1) of a case in which a party or the party's child is a party to or the subject of a petition or order involving ~~child custody, child support, or parent time,~~ child custody, including minor guardianship, adoption, or any similar child custody case;

(a)(2) of a criminal or delinquency case in which a party or the party's child is a defendant or respondent;

(a)(3) of a protective order case involving a party regardless whether a child of the party is involved.

The notice shall be filed with a party's initial pleading or as soon as practicable after the party becomes aware of the other case. The notice shall include the case caption, file number₁, and name of the judge or commissioner in the other case.

(b) Communication among judges and commissioners. The judge or commissioner assigned to a case in which ~~child custody, child support, or parent time,~~ child custody is an issue shall communicate and consult with any other judge or commissioner assigned to any other pending case involving the same issues and the same parties or their children. The objective of the communication is to consider the feasibility of consolidating the cases before one judge or commissioner or of coordinating hearings and orders.

(c) Participation of parties. The judges and commissioners may allow the parties to participate in the communication. If the parties have not participated in the communication, the parties shall be given notice and the opportunity to present facts and arguments before a decision to consolidate the cases.

(d) Consolidation of cases.

(d)(1) The court may consolidate cases within a county under Rule 42.

(d)(2) The court may transfer a case to the court of another county with venue or to the court of any county in accordance with Utah Code Section 78B-3-309.

(d)(3) If the district court and juvenile court have concurrent jurisdiction over cases, either court may transfer a case to the other court upon the agreement of the judges or commissioners assigned to the cases.

(e) Judicial reassignment. A judge may hear and determine a case in another court or district upon assignment in accordance with CJA Rule 3-108(3).

(4) RULE 68 DISCUSSION

Judge Stucki introduced Representative Brady Brammer, Charles Stormont, and Doug Cannon and Chuck Conrad from the Utah Association for Justice to discuss the proposed draft Rule 68, which creates new settlement and fee-shifting rules.

Representative Brammer explained that the purpose of the proposed rule is to preserve judicial resources by reducing rising caseloads burdening state district court judges. Accordingly, the proposed rule purports to alleviate caseloads by incentivizing parties to enter settlement agreements earlier in the litigation process. Representative Brammer also explained the rule is not a defense-bar or plaintiffs-bar issue, noting that Nevada has a similar rule and that Nevada's relatively weak plaintiffs' bar supports the rule. Timothy Pack and Justin Toth asked if states with similar rules have seen caseload reductions. Representative Brammer responded that the answer is unclear but that the subcommittee built into the proposed rule a mechanism to track Rule 68 settlement agreements via return of service filings. Judge Stone asked what effect the proposed rule would have on contract enforcement. Representative Brammer responded that if a specific ancillary rule should be codified in statute, he would be happy to hear it. Judge Kent Holmberg and Judge Stucki noted a concern regarding the committee's authority to act without legislative action.

Mr. Stormont, in his capacity as an access-to-justice advocate, recommended that the committee revisit the rule within six months of its implementation to evaluate any unintended consequences and the need to revert to a previous version of the rule. Mr. Stormont also recommended that the rule be amended to provide parties more time to respond to an offer, which would be especially valuable to unsophisticated and unrepresented parties. Mr. Stormont noted that, if the proposed rule works as intended, access to justice could be increased by enabling more people to access the courts because cases are resolved more quickly.

Mr. Cannon and Mr. Conrad from the Utah Association for Justice raised additional access-to-justice concerns. Specifically, Mr. Cannon expressed concerns that, because plaintiffs are often individuals with minimal assets, the proposed rule would create an imbalance of power in favor of large defendant companies. Mr. Cannon raised further concerns that the rule would disincentivize contingency attorneys from helping clients and thereby reduce access to justice. Judge Stucki noted that wealthy parties who can outspend their adversaries are already favored and that plaintiffs' attorneys in Nevada reported that their version of the proposed rule helped correct the imbalance. Mr. Conrad raised the issue of whether it is good policy to favor judicial economy over the law's traditional balance of relationships that gives "underdogs" the opportunity to win at jury trial. The committee discussed the proposed rule's potential disparate impact depending on the type of case at issue and whether the rule could be crafted to account for any disparate impact. Mr. Cannon and Mr. Conrad expressed that they would like to return with more specific concerns and possible amendments to the proposed draft.

(5) RULE 4 AND ELECTRONIC ACCEPTANCE OF SERVICE

Mr. Toth introduced new proposed amendments to Rule 4, which the committee discussed and approved to go up to the Supreme Court. Mr. Toth explained that the Rule 4 subcommittee simplified the amendments to focus on the original charge of addressing concerns regarding electronic acceptance of service and the potential for deception through misrepresentation. Judge Stucki moved to recommend that the Supreme Court circulate the rule for public comment. Judge Stone and Lauren DiFrancesco seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Rule 4. Process.

(a) Signing of summons. The summons must be signed and issued by the plaintiff or the plaintiff's attorney. Separate summonses may be signed and issued.

(b) Time of service. Unless the summons and complaint are accepted, a copy of the summons and complaint in an action commenced under Rule 3(a)(1) must be served no later than 120 days after the complaint is filed, unless the court orders a different period under Rule 6. If the summons and complaint are not timely served, the action against the unserved defendant may be dismissed without prejudice on motion of any party or on the court's own initiative.

(c) Contents of summons.

(c)(1) The summons must:

(c)(1)(A) contain the name and address of the court, the names of the parties to the action, and the county in which it is brought;

(c)(1)(B) be directed to the defendant;

(c)(1)(C) state the name, address and telephone number of the plaintiff's attorney, if any, and otherwise the plaintiff's address and telephone number;

(c)(1)(D) state the time within which the defendant is required to answer the complaint in writing;

(c)(1)(E) notify the defendant that in case of failure to answer in writing, judgment by default will be entered against the defendant; and

(c)(1)(F) state either that the complaint is on file with the court or that the complaint will be filed with the court within 10 days after service.

(c)(2) If the action is commenced under Rule 3(a)(2), the summons must also:

(c)(2)(A) state that the defendant need not answer if the complaint is not filed within 10 days after service; and

(c)(2)(B) state the telephone number of the clerk of the court where the defendant may call at least 14 days after service to determine if the complaint has been filed.

(c)(3) If service is by publication, the summons must also briefly state the subject matter and the sum of money or other relief demanded, and that the complaint is on file with the court.

(d) Methods of service. The summons and complaint may be served in any state or judicial district of the United States. Unless service is accepted, service of the summons and complaint must be by one of the following methods:

(d)(1) Personal service. The summons and complaint may be served by any person 18 years of age or older at the time of service and not a party to the action or a party's attorney. If the person to be served refuses to accept a copy of the summons and complaint, service is sufficient if the person serving them states the name of the process and offers to deliver them. Personal service must be made as follows:

(d)(1)(A) Upon any individual other than one covered by paragraphs (d)(1)(B), (d)(1)(C) or (d)(1)(D), by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual personally, or by leaving them at the individual's dwelling house or usual place of abode with a person of suitable age and discretion who resides there, or by delivering them to an agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive process;

(d)(1)(B) Upon a minor under 14 years old by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the minor and also to the minor's father, mother, or guardian or, if none can be found within the state, then to any person having the care and control of the minor, or with whom the minor resides, or by whom the minor is employed;

(d)(1)(C) Upon an individual judicially declared to be incapacitated, of unsound mind, or incapable of conducting the individual's own affairs, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual and to the guardian or conservator of the individual if one has been appointed; the individual's legal representative if one has been appointed, and, in the absence of a guardian, conservator, or legal representative, to the person, if any, who has care, custody, or control of the individual;

(d)(1)(D) Upon an individual incarcerated or committed at a facility operated by the state or any of its political subdivisions, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the person who has the care, custody, or control of the individual, or to that person's designee or to the guardian or conservator of the individual if one has been appointed. The person to whom the summons and complaint are delivered must promptly deliver them to the individual;

(d)(1)(E) Upon a corporation not otherwise provided for in this rule, a limited liability company, a partnership, or an unincorporated association subject to suit under a common name, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to an officer, a managing or general agent, or other agent authorized by appointment or law to receive process and by also mailing a copy of the summons and complaint to the defendant, if the agent is one authorized by statute to receive process and the statute so requires. If no officer or agent can be found within the state, and the defendant has, or advertises or holds itself out as having, a place of business within the state or elsewhere, or does business within this state or elsewhere, then upon the person in charge of the place of business;

(d)(1)(F) Upon an incorporated city or town, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint as required by statute, or in the absence of a controlling statute, to the recorder;

(d)(1)(G) Upon a county, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint as required by statute, or in the absence of a controlling statute, to the county clerk;

(d)(1)(H) Upon a school district or board of education, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint as required by statute, or in the absence of a controlling statute, to the superintendent or administrator of the board;

(d)(1)(I) Upon an irrigation or drainage district, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint as required by statute, or in the absence of a controlling statute, to the president or secretary of its board;

(d)(1)(J) Upon the state of Utah or its department or agency by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the attorney general and any other person or agency required by statute to be served; and

(d)(1)(K) Upon a public board, commission or body by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint as required by statute, or in the absence of a controlling statute, to any member of its governing board, or to its executive employee or secretary.

(d)(2) Service by mail or commercial courier service.

(d)(2)(A) The summons and complaint may be served upon an individual other than one covered by paragraphs (d)(1)(B) or (d)(1)(C) by mail or commercial courier service in any state or judicial district of the United States provided the defendant signs a document indicating receipt.

(d)(2)(B) The summons and complaint may be served upon an entity covered by paragraphs (d)(1)(E) through (d)(1)(I) by mail or commercial courier service in any state or judicial district of the United States provided defendant's agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process signs a document indicating receipt.

(d)(2)(C) Service by mail or commercial courier service shall be complete on the date the receipt is signed as provided by this rule.

(d)(3) Acceptance of service.

(d)(3)(A) Duty to avoid expenses. All parties have a duty to avoid unnecessary expenses of serving the summons and complaint.

(d)(3)(B) Acceptance of service by party. Unless the person to be served is a minor under 14 years old or an individual judicially declared to be incapacitated, of unsound mind, or incapable of conducting the individual's own affairs, a party may accept service of a summons and complaint by signing a document that acknowledges receipt of the summons and complaint.

(d)(3)(B)(i) Content of proof of electronic acceptance. If acceptance is obtained electronically, the proof of acceptance must demonstrate on its face that the electronic signature is attributable to the party accepting service and was voluntarily executed by the party. The proof of acceptance must demonstrate that the party received readable copies of the summons and complaint prior to signing the acceptance of service.

(d)(3)(B)(ii) Duty to avoid deception. A request to accept service must not be deceptive, including stating or implying that the request to accept service originates with a judicial officer or court.

(d)(3)(C) Acceptance of service by attorney for party. An attorney may accept service of a summons and complaint on behalf of the attorney's client by signing a document that acknowledges receipt of the summons and complaint.

(d)(3)(D) Effect of acceptance, proof of acceptance. A person who accepts service of the summons and complaint retains all defenses and objections, except for adequacy of service. Service is effective on the date of the acceptance. Filing the acceptance of service with the court constitutes proof of service under Rule 4(e).

(d)(4) Service in a foreign country. Service in a foreign country must be made as follows:

(d)(4)(A) by any internationally agreed means reasonably calculated to give notice, such as those means authorized by the Hague Convention on the Service Abroad of Judicial and Extrajudicial Documents;

(d)(4)(B) if there is no internationally agreed means of service or the applicable international agreement allows other means of service, provided that service is reasonably calculated to give notice:

(d)(4)(B)(i) in the manner prescribed by the law of the foreign country for service in that country in an action in any of its courts of general jurisdiction;

(d)(4)(B)(ii) as directed by the foreign authority in response to a letter of request issued by the court; or

(d)(4)(B)(iii) unless prohibited by the law of the foreign country, by delivering a copy of the summons and complaint to the individual personally or by any form of mail requiring a signed receipt, addressed and dispatched by the clerk of the court to the party to be served; or

(d)(4)(C) by other means not prohibited by international agreement as may be directed by the court.

(d)(5) Other service.

(d)(5)(A) If the identity or whereabouts of the person to be served are unknown and cannot be ascertained through reasonable diligence, if service upon all of the individual parties is impracticable under the circumstances, or if there is good cause to believe that the person to be served is avoiding service, the party seeking service may file a motion to allow service by some other means. An affidavit or declaration supporting the motion must set forth the efforts made to identify, locate, and serve the party, or the circumstances that make it impracticable to serve all of the individual parties.

(d)(5)(B) If the motion is granted, the court will order service of the complaint and summons by means reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise the named parties of the action. The court's order must specify the content of the process to be served and the event upon which service is complete. Unless service is by publication, a copy of the court's order must be served with the process specified by the court.

(d)(5)(C) If the summons is required to be published, the court, upon the request of the party applying for service by other means, must designate a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which publication is required.

(e) Proof of service.

(e)(1) The person effecting service must file proof of service stating the date, place, and manner of service, including a copy of the summons. If service is made by a person other than by an attorney, sheriff, constable, United States Marshal, or by the sheriff's, constable's or marshal's deputy, the proof of service must be by affidavit or unsworn declaration as described in Title 78B, Chapter 18a, Uniform Unsworn Declarations Act.

(e)(2) Proof of service in a foreign country must be made as prescribed in these rules for service within this state, or by the law of the foreign country, or by order of the court.

(e)(3) When service is made pursuant to paragraph(d)(4)(C), proof of service must include a receipt signed by the addressee or other evidence of delivery to the addressee satisfactory to the court.

(e)(4) Failure to file proof of service does not affect the validity of the service. The court may allow proof of service to be amended.

Hi Nancy,

Thanks for following up. When I suggested this, I was thinking of folk who may blink or or say "yes" or "no" in another way. Also, individuals who use a picture board or speech augmentative communication device. In addition to the DOJ's effective communication guidance, here's a sheet with some practical tips that might be useful. Let me know if these are enough, or if you need something more or different.

Hi Andrew!

The Civil Rules chairman and I just met with the Supreme Court this morning to finalize Civil Rule Rule 26.4 but the Court expressed some concerns about not having enough specifics regarding "preferred means of communication," which was added in response to your comment from the DLC (below). Can you please provide some examples of how someone who has trouble communicating generally or during the hearing might have another means of communication? I've attached the draft rule for your reference.

Thanks so much!

Andrew Riggle: Comment on 26.4

The Disability Law Center (DLC) is the state's protection and advocacy agency for Utahns with disabilities. We are also a member of the Working Interdisciplinary Network of Guardianship Stakeholders.

The DLC is concerned by lines 13-14, which require an objection to a petition be made at a hearing and filed in writing within 7 days. A respondent may fear objecting publicly, especially if a parent or other individual whose relationship is important to him or her is the petitioner. Relatedly, for physical, sensory, cognitive, or other reasons, a respondent may find it difficult to submit an objection in writing. Therefore, we recommend language be added clarifying that a court should offer assistance to a respondent in filing an objection using his or her preferred method or means of communication. The DLC appreciates the reference in lines 32-34 to the statute's preference for limited guardianship or conservatorship. However, we think it will be reinforced by not only identifying what alternatives, if any, have been explored, but whether and how come each was found to be inappropriate or inadequate. This could be accomplished by including language similar to "If any of these alternatives exist, why are they not sufficient to support or protect the respondent?," as found in the Bench Book under "Questions a Judge Should Consider in Determining Capacity, Appropriate Guardian, and Limited Guardianship."

Thank you for your time and consideration of our feedback. If you have questions or would like more information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

4 (b) Definition. A probate dispute is a contested action arising under Title 75 of the Utah Code.

5 (c) Designation of parties, objections, initial disclosures, and discovery.

6 (c)(1) Designation of Parties. For purposes of Rule 26, the plaintiff in probate proceedings is 7 presumed to be the petitioner in the matter, and the defendant is presumed to be any party ~~filing who~~
 8 ~~has made an~~ objection. Once a probate dispute arises, and based on the facts and circumstances of 9 the case, the court may designate an interested person as plaintiff, defendant, or non-party for 10 purposes of discovery. Only an interested person who has appeared on the record will be treated as 11 a party for purposes of discovery.

12 (c)(2) Objection to the petition.

13 (c)(2)(A) Any oral objection ~~must be made at a scheduled hearing on the petition and must~~ 14 then be put into writing and filed with the court within 7 days, unless the written objection has 15 been previously filed with the court. ~~The court may for good cause in a guardianship or~~ 16 ~~conservatorship case, accept an objection made using the person's preferred means of~~ 17 ~~communication and document the objection in the court record. When a person has a~~
 18 ~~communication disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act, the court shall accept an~~
 19 ~~objection made using auxillary aids and services and document the objection in the court record.~~

20 (c)(2)(B) A written objection must set forth the grounds for the objection and any supporting 21 authority, must be filed with the court, and must be mailed to the parties named in the petition and 22 any interested persons, as that term is defined provided in Utah Code § 75-1-201(24), unless the 23 written objection has been previously filed with the court.

24 (c)(2)(C) An objection made using auxillary aids and services ~~the person's preferred means of~~ 25 ~~communication under paragraph (c)(2)(A) must also set forth the grounds for the objection and~~
 26 ~~any supporting authority to the extent possible. The court will provide notice of the objection to the~~ 27 ~~parties named in the petition and any interested persons, as the term "interested persons" is~~ 28 ~~defined in Utah Code § 75-1-201.~~

29 (c)(2)(~~C~~D) If the petitioner and objecting party agree to an extension of time to file the written 30 objection, notice of the agreed upon date must be filed with the court.

31 (c)(2)(E) The court may modify the timing for making an objection in accordance with Rule 32 6(b).

33 (c)(2)(~~E~~F) In the event no written or other objection under paragraph (c)(2)(A) is timely filed,
 34 the court will act on the original petition upon the petitioner's filing of a request to submit pursuant 35 to Rule 7 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure.

36 (c)(3) Initial disclosures in guardianship and conservatorship matters.

Comment [NS1]: I added the green highlighted sections in response to Andrew Riggle's email.

37 (c)(3)(A) In addition to the disclosures required by Rule 26(a), and unless included in the
38 petition, the following documents must be served by the party in possession or control of the 39 documents within 14 days after a written objection has been filed:

40 (c)(3)(A)(i) any document purporting to nominate a guardian or conservator, including a 41 will, trust, power of attorney, or advance healthcare directive, copies of which must be served 42 upon all interested persons; and

43 (c)(3)(A)(ii) a list of less restrictive alternatives to guardianship or conservatorship that the 44 petitioner has explored and ways in which a guardianship or conservatorship of the 45 respondent may be limited.

46 This paragraph supersedes Rule 26(a)(2).

47 (c)(3)(B) The initial disclosure documents must be served on the parties named in the
48 probate petition and the objection and anyone who has requested notice under Title 75 of the
49 Utah Code:

50 (c)(3)(C) If there is a dispute regarding the validity of an original document, the proponent of 51 the original document must make it available for inspection by any other the contesting party
52 within 14 days of the date of referral to mediation unless the parties agree to a different date.

53 (c)(3)(D) The court may for good cause modify the content and timing of the disclosures
54 required in this rule or in Rule 26(a) in accordance with Rule 6(b). ~~for any reason justifying~~
55 ~~departure from these rules.~~

56 (c)(4) Initial disclosures in all other probate matters.

57 (c)(4)(A) In addition to the disclosures required by Rule 26(a), and unless included in the
58 petition, the following documents must be served by the party in possession or control of the
59 documents within 14 days after a written objection has been filed: any other document purporting 60 to nominate a personal representative or trustee after death, including wills, trusts, and any 61 amendments to those documents, copies of which must be served upon all interested persons.
62 This paragraph supersedes Rule 26(a)(2).

63 (c)(4)(B) The initial disclosure documents must be served on the parties named in the 64 probate petition and the objection and anyone who has requested notice under Title 75 of the
65 Utah Code.

66 (c)(4)(C) If there is a dispute regarding the validity of an original document, the proponent of
67 the original document must make it available for inspection by the contesting party within 14 days
68 of the date of referral to mediation unless the parties agree to a different date.

69 (c)(4)(D) The court may for good cause modify the content and timing of the disclosures
70 required in this rule or in Rule 26(a) in accordance with Rule 6(b). ~~for any reason justifying~~
71 ~~departure from these rules.~~

72 (c)(5) Discovery once a probate dispute arises. Except as provided in this rule or as otherwise
73 ordered by the court, once a probate dispute arises, discovery will proceed pursuant to the Rules of 74 Civil Procedure, including the other provisions of Rule 26.

75 (d) Pretrial disclosures under Rule 26(a)(5), objections. The term "trial" in Rule 26(a)(5)(B) also 76 refers to evidentiary hearings for purposes of this rule. ~~No later than 14 days prior to an evidentiary~~
77 ~~hearing or trial, the parties must serve the disclosures required by Rule 26(a)(5)(A).~~

Rule 7A subcommittee proposal

DiFrancesco, Lauren E.H.

To: Nancy Sylvester, Jim Hunnicutt, Judge Kent Holmberg , Leslie Slaugh, Susan Vogel
Cc: "DiFrancesco, Lauren E.H."

Nancy –

The Rule 7A subcommittee met last night and here are our final drafts for the committee for new proposed Rules 7A and 7B. With these two new rules, I think Rule 7(q) should now be deleted. And we recognize the adoption Rule 7B may require some changes to Rule 101, which Judge Holmberg has agreed to discuss with the appropriate committee. We believe our changes address the comments, and to the extent it's not clear from the text that they do, we are happy to discuss it. Please let me know if there's anything else you need from our subcommittee before next week's meeting.

Best,
Lauren

1 Rule 7A. Motion to enforce order and for sanctions.

2 (a) Motion. To enforce a court order or to obtain a sanctions order for violation of an order, a party
3 must file an ex-parte motion to enforce order and for sanctions (if requested), pursuant to this rule
4 and Rule 7. The motion must be filed in the same case in which that order was entered. The timeframes
5 set forth in this rule, rather than those set forth in Rule 7, govern motions to enforce orders and for 6 sanctions.

7 (b) Affidavit. The motion must state the title and date of entry of the order that the moving party
8 seeks to enforce. The motion must be verified, or must be accompanied by at least one supporting
9 affidavit that is based on personal knowledge and shows that the affiant is competent to testify on the
10 matters set forth. The verified motion or affidavit must set forth facts that would be admissible in evidence
11 and that would support a finding that the party has violated the order.

12 (c) Proposed order. The motion must be accompanied by a request to submit for decision and a
13 proposed order to attend hearing, which must:

14 (c)(1) state the title and date of entry of the order that the motion seeks to enforce;

15 (c)(2) state the relief sought in the motion;

16 (c)(3) state whether the motion is requesting that the other party be held in contempt and, if so,
17 state that the penalties for contempt may include, but are not limited to, a fine of up to $1000 and
18 confinement in jail for up to 30 days;

19 (c)(4) order the other party to appear personally or through counsel at a specific place (the court's
20 address) and date and time (left blank for the court clerk to fill in) to explain whether the nonmoving
21 party has violated the order; and

22 (c)(5) state that no written response to the motion is required but is permitted if filed within 14
23 days of service of the order, unless the court sets a different time, and that any written response must 24 follow the requirements of Rule 7.

25 (d)

26 (d) Service of the order. If the court issues an order to attend a hearing, the moving party must have 27 the order, motion, and all supporting affidavits served on the nonmoving party at least 28 days before the 28 hearing. Service must be in a manner provided in Rule 4 if the nonmoving party is not represented by 29 counsel in the case. If the nonmoving party is represented by counsel in the case, service must be made
30 on the nonmoving party's counsel of record in a manner provided in Rule 5. For purposes of this rule, a 31 party is represented by counsel if, within the last 120 days, counsel for that party has served or filed any 32 documents in the case. The court may shorten the 28 day period if:

33 (d)(1) the motion requests an earlier date; and

34 (d)(2) it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit that immediate and irreparable
35 injury, loss, or damage will result to the moving party if the hearing is not held sooner.

36 (e) Opposition. A written opposition is not required, but if filed, must be filed within 14 days of service
37 of the order, unless the court sets a different time, and must follow the requirements of Rule 7.

38 (f) Reply. If the nonmoving party files a written opposition, the moving party may file a reply within 7
39 days of the filing of the opposition to the motion, unless the court sets a different time. Any reply must
40 follow the requirements of Rule 7.

41 (g) Hearing. At the hearing the court may receive evidence, hear argument, and rule upon the
42 motion, or may request additional briefing or hearings. The moving party bears the burden of proof on all
43 claims made in the motion. At the court's discretion, the court may convene a telephone conference
44 before the hearing to preliminarily address any issues related to the motion, including whether the court
45 would like to order a briefing schedule other than as set forth in this rule.

46 (h) Limitations. This rule does not apply to an order that is issued by the court on its own initiative.
47 This rule does not apply in criminal cases or motions filed under Rule 37. Nothing in this rule is intended
48 to limit or alter the inherent power of the court to initiate order to show cause proceedings to assess 49 whether cases should be dismissed for failure to prosecute or to otherwise manage the court's docket, or 50 to limit the authority of the court to hold a party in contempt for failure to appear pursuant to a court order.

51 (i) Orders to show cause. The process set forth in this rule replaces and supersedes the prior order
52 to show cause procedure. An order to attend hearing serves as an order to show cause as that term is
53 used in Utah law.

1 Rule 7B. Motion to enforce order and for sanctions in domestic law matters.

2 (a) Motion. To enforce a court order or to obtain a sanctions order for violation of an order, a party
3 must file an ex-parte motion to enforce order and for sanctions (if requested), pursuant to this rule
4 and Rule 7. The motion must be filed in the same case in which that order was entered. The timeframes
5 set forth in this rule, rather than those set forth in Rule 7, govern motions to enforce orders and for
6 sanctions. If the motion is to be heard by a commissioner, the motion must also follow the procedures
7 of Rule 101. For purpose of this rule, an order includes a decree.

8 (b) Affidavit. The motion must state the title and date of entry of the order that the moving party
9 seeks to enforce. The motion must be verified, or must be accompanied by at least one supporting
10 affidavit that is based on personal knowledge and shows that the affiant is competent to testify on the
11 matters set forth. The verified motion or affidavit must set forth facts that would be admissible in evidence
12 and that would support a finding that the party has violated the order.

13 (c) Proposed order. The motion must be accompanied by a request to submit for decision and a
14 proposed order to attend hearing, which must:

15 (c)(1) state the title and date of entry of the order that the motion seeks to enforce;

16 (c)(2) state the relief sought in the motion;

17 (c)(3) state whether the motion is requesting that the other party be held in contempt and, if so,
18 state that the penalties for contempt may include, but are not limited to, a fine of up to $1000 and
19 confinement in jail for up to 30 days;

20 (c)(4) order the other party to appear personally or through counsel at a specific place (the court's
21 address) and date and time (left blank for the court clerk to fill in) to explain whether the nonmoving
22 party has violated the order; and

23 (c)(5) state that no written response to the motion is required, but is permitted if filed at least 14
24 days before the hearing, unless the court sets a different time, and that any written response must 25 follow the requirements of Rule 7, and Rule 101 if the hearing will be before a commissioner.

26 (d) Service of the order. If the court issues an order to attend a hearing, the moving party must 27 have the order, motion, and all supporting affidavits served on the nonmoving party at least 28 days
28 before the hearing. Service must be in a manner provided in Rule 4 if the nonmoving party is not
29 represented by counsel in the case. If the nonmoving party is represented by counsel in the case, service
30 must be made on the nonmoving party's counsel of record in a manner provided in Rule 5. For purposes
31 of this rule, a party is represented by counsel if, within the last 120 days, counsel for that party has served 32 or filed any documents in the case. The court may shorten the 28 day period if:

33 (d)(1) the motion requests an earlier date; and

34 (d)(2) it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit that immediate and irreparable
35 injury, loss, or damage will result to the moving party if the hearing is not held sooner.

36 (e) Opposition. A written opposition is not required, but if filed, must be filed at least 14 days before
37 the hearing, unless the court sets a different time, and must follow the requirements of Rule 7, and Rule
38 101 if the hearing will be before a commissioner.

39 (f) Reply. If the nonmoving party files a written opposition, the moving party may file a reply at least 7
40 days before the hearing, unless the court sets a different time. Any reply must follow the requirements of 41 Rule 7, and Rule 101 if the hearing will be before a commissioner.

42 (g) Hearing. At the hearing the court may receive evidence, hear argument, and rule upon the
43 motion, or may request additional briefing or hearings. The moving party bears the burden of proof on all
44 claims made in the motion. At the court's discretion, the court may convene a telephone conference
45 before the hearing to preliminarily address any issues related to the motion, including whether the court
46 would like to order a briefing schedule other than as set forth in this rule.

47 (h) Counter Motions. A responding party may request affirmative relief only by filing a counter
48 motion, to be heard at the same hearing. A counter motion need not be limited to the subject matter of the 49 original motion. All of the provisions of this rule apply to counter motions except that a counter motion
50 must be filed and served with the opposition. Any opposition to the counter motion must be filed and 51 served no later than the reply to the motion. Any reply to the opposition to the counter motion must be 52 filed and served at least 3 business days before the hearing in a manner that will cause the reply to be 53 actually received by the party responding to the counter motion (i.e. hand-delivery, fax or other electronic 54 delivery as allowed by rule or agreed by the parties). The party who filed the counter motion bears the 55 burden of proof on all claims made in the counter motion. A separate proposed order is required only for 56 counter motions to enforce a court order or to obtain a sanctions order for violation of an order, in which 57 case the proposed order for the counter motion must:

58 (h)(1) state the title and date of entry of the order that the counter motion seeks to enforce;

59 (h)(2) state the relief sought in the counter motion;

60 (h)(3) state whether the counter motion is requesting that the other party be held in contempt and,
61 if so, state that the penalties for contempt may include, but are not limited to, a fine of up to $1000
62 and confinement in jail for up to 30 days;

63 (h)(4) order the other party to appear personally or through counsel at the scheduled hearing to 64 explain whether that party has violated the order; and

65 (h)(5) state that no written response to the countermotion is required, but that a written response
66 is permitted if filed at least 7 days before the hearing, unless the court sets a different time, and that 67 any written response must follow the requirements of Rule 7, and Rule 101 if the hearing will be 68 before a commissioner.

69 (i) Limitations. This rule does not apply to an order that is issued by the court on its own initiative.
70 This rule applies only to domestic relations actions, including divorce; temporary separation; separate
71 maintenance; parentage; custody; child support; adoptions; cohabitant abuse protective orders; child
72 protective orders; civil stalking injunctions; grandparent visitation; and modification actions. Nothing in this

73 rule is intended to limit or alter the inherent power of the court to initiate order to show cause proceedings
74 to assess whether cases should be dismissed for failure to prosecute or to otherwise manage the court's 75 docket, or to limit the authority of the court to hold a party in contempt for failure to appear pursuant to a 76 court order.

77 (j) Orders to show cause. The process set forth in this rule replaces and supersedes the prior order
78 to show cause procedure. An order to attend hearing serves as an order to show cause as that term is 79 used in Utah law.

URCP 26.

Advisory Committee Notes

Disclosure requirements and timing. Rule 26(a)(1).

~~The 2011 amendments seek to reduce discovery costs by requiring each party to produce, at an early stage in the case, and without a discovery request, all of the documents and physical evidence the party may offer in its case in chief and the names of witnesses the party may call in its case in chief, with a description of their expected testimony. In this respect, the amendments build on the initial disclosure requirements of the prior rules. In addition to the disclosures required by the prior version of Rule 26(a)(1), a party must disclose each fact witness the party may call in its case in chief and a summary of the witness's expected testimony, a copy of all documents the party may offer in its case in chief, and all documents to which a party refers in its pleadings.~~

Not all information will be known at the outset of a case. If discovery is serving its proper purpose, additional witnesses, documents, and other information will be identified. The scope and the level of detail required in the initial Rule 26(a)(1) disclosures should be viewed in light of this reality. A party is not required to interview every witness it ultimately may call at trial in order to provide a summary of the witness's expected testimony. As the information becomes known, it should be disclosed. No summaries are required for adverse parties, including management level employees of business entities, because opposing lawyers are unable to interview them and their testimony is available to their own counsel. For uncooperative or hostile witnesses any summary of expected testimony would necessarily be limited to the subject areas the witness is reasonably expected to testify about. For example, defense counsel may be unable to interview a treating physician, so the initial summary may only disclose that the witness will be questioned concerning the plaintiff's diagnosis, treatment and prognosis. After medical records have been obtained, the summary may be expanded or refined.

Subject to the foregoing qualifications, the summary of the witness's expected testimony should be just that— a summary. The rule does not require prefiled testimony or detailed descriptions of everything a witness might say at trial. On the other hand, it requires more than the broad, conclusory statements that often were made under the prior version of Rule 26(a)(1) (e.g., "The witness will testify about the events in question" or "The witness will testify on causation."). The intent of this requirement is to give the other side basic information concerning the subjects about which the witness is expected to testify at trial, so that the other side may determine the witness's relative importance in the case, whether the witness should be interviewed or deposed, and whether additional documents or information concerning the witness should be sought. See RJW Media Inc. v. Heath, 2017 UT App 34, ¶¶ 23-25, 392 P.3d 956. This information is important because of the other discovery limits contained in the 2011 amendments, particularly the limits on depositions contained in Rule 26.

Likewise, the documents that should be provided as part of the Rule 26(a)(1) disclosures are those that a party reasonably believes it may use at trial, understanding that not all documents will be available at the outset of a case. In this regard, it is important to remember that the duty to provide documents and witness information is a continuing one, and disclosures must be promptly supplemented as new evidence and witnesses become known as the case progresses.

~~The amendments also require parties to provide more information about damages early in the case. Too often, the subject of damages is deferred until late in the case. Early disclosure of damages information is important. Among other things, it is a critical factor in determining proportionality. The committee recognizes that damages often require additional discovery, and typically are the subject of expert testimony. The Rule is not intended to require expert disclosures at the outset of a case. At the same time, the subject of damages should not simply be deferred until expert discovery. Parties should make a good faith attempt to compute damages to the extent it is possible to do so and must in any event provide all discoverable information on the subject, including materials related to the nature and extent of the damages.~~

The penalty for failing to make timely disclosures is that the evidence may not be used in the party's case in chief. To make the disclosure requirement meaningful, and to discourage sandbagging, parties must know that if they fail to disclose important information that is helpful to their case, they will not be able to use that information at trial. The courts will be expected to enforce them unless the failure is harmless or the party shows good cause for the failure.

~~The 2011 amendments also change the time for making these required disclosures. Because the plaintiff controls when it brings the action, plaintiffs must make their disclosures within 14 days after service of the first answer. A defendant is required to make its disclosures within 28 days after the plaintiff's first disclosure or after that defendant's appearance, whichever is later. The purpose of early disclosure is to have all parties present the evidence they expect to use to prove their claims or defenses, thereby giving the opposing party the ability to better evaluate the case and determine what additional discovery is necessary and proportional.~~

~~The time periods for making Rule 26(a)(1) disclosures, and the presumptive deadlines for completing fact discovery, are keyed to the filing of an answer. If a defendant files a motion to dismiss or other Rule 12(b) motion in lieu of an answer, these time periods normally would be not begin to run until that motion is resolved.~~

~~Finally, the 2011 amendments eliminate two categories of actions that previously were exempt from the mandatory disclosure requirements. Specifically, the amendments eliminate the prior exemption for contract actions in which the amount claimed is $20,000 or less, and actions in which any party is proceeding pro se. In the committee's view, these types of actions will benefit from the early disclosure requirements and the overall reduced cost of discovery.~~

Expert disclosures and timing. Rule 26(a)(3). Expert discovery has become an ever-increasing component of discovery cost. The prior rules sought to eliminate some of these costs by requiring the written disclosure of the expert's opinions and other background information. However, because the expert was not required to sign these disclosures, and because experts often were allowed to deviate from the opinions disclosed, attorneys typically would take the expert's deposition to ensure the expert would not offer "surprise" testimony at trial, thereby increasing rather than decreasing the overall cost. The amendments seek to remedy this and other costs associated with expert discovery by, among other things, allowing the opponent to choose either a deposition of the expert or a written report, but not both; in the case of written reports, requiring more comprehensive disclosures, signed by the expert, and making clear that experts will not be allowed to testify beyond what is fairly disclosed in a report, all with the goal of making reports a reliable substitute for depositions; and incorporating a rule that protects from discovery most communications between an attorney and retained expert. Discovery-Disclosure of the identity and subjects of expert opinions and testimony is automatic under Rule 26(a)(3) and parties are not required to serve interrogatories or use other discovery devices to obtain this information.

~~Disclosures of expert testimony are made in sequence, with the party who bears the burden of proof on the issue for which expert testimony will be offered going first. Within seven days after the close of fact discovery, that party must disclose: (i) the expert's curriculum vitae identifying the expert's qualifications, publications, and prior testimony; (ii) compensation information; (iii) a brief summary of the opinions the expert will offer; and (iv) a complete copy of the expert's file for the case. The copy of the expert's file should include all of the facts and data that the expert has relied upon in forming the expert's opinions. If the expert has prepared summaries of data, spreadsheets, charts, tables, or similar materials, they should be included. If the expert has used software programs to make calculations or otherwise summarize or organize data, that information and underlying formulas should be provided in native form so it can be analyzed and understood. To the extent the expert is relying on depositions or materials produced in discovery, then a list of the specific materials relied upon is sufficient. The committee recognizes that ~~Experts~~ frequently will prepare demonstrative exhibits or other aids to illustrate the expert's testimony at trial, and the costs for preparing these materials can be substantial. For that reason, these types of demonstrative aids may be prepared and disclosed later, as part of the Rule 26(a)(4) pretrial disclosures when trial is imminent.~~

~~Within seven days after this disclosure, the party opposing the retained expert may elect either a deposition or a written report from the expert. A deposition is limited to four hours, which is not included in the deposition hours under Rule 26(c)(5), and the party taking it must pay the expert's hourly fee for attending the deposition. If a party elects a written report, the expert must provide a signed report containing a complete statement of all opinions the expert will express and the basis and reasons for~~

Comment [TP1]: I like this note because it makes clear that you can't start your discovery until at least after the answer is filed. I'm dealing with a case where I filed a MTD rather than answer. The plaintiff served initial disclosures and discovery requests prior to the resolution of the MTD and prior to the filing of an answer. So lets make it clear in the actual rule then delete this note.

Comment [LS2]: This is contrary to the language of the rule. The rule does not require the "expert's file." The rule instead requires "all data and other information that will be relied upon by the witness in forming those opinions" The expert is not required to disclose information that will not be relied upon.

them. The intent is not to require a verbatim transcript of exactly what the expert will say at trial; instead the expert must fairly disclose the substance of and basis for each opinion the expert will offer. The expert may not testify in a party's case in chief concerning any matter that is not fairly disclosed in the report. To achieve the goal of making reports a reliable substitute for depositions, courts are expected to enforce this requirement. If a party elects a deposition, rather than a report, it is up to the party to ask the necessary questions to "lock in" the expert's testimony. But the expert is expected to be fully prepared on all aspects of his/her trial testimony at the time of the deposition and may not leave the door open for additional testimony by qualifying answers to deposition questions.

~~The report or deposition must be completed within 28 days after the election is made. After this, the party who does not bear the burden of proof on the issue for which expert testimony is offered must make its corresponding disclosures and the opposing party may then elect either a deposition or a written report. Under the deadlines contained in the rules, expert discovery should take less than three months to complete. However, as with the other discovery rules, these deadlines can be altered by stipulation of the parties or order of the court.~~

~~The amendments also address the issue of testimony from non-retained experts, such as treating physicians, police officers, or employees with special expertise, who are not retained or specially employed to provide expert testimony, or whose duties as an employee do not regularly involve giving expert testimony. This issue was addressed by the Supreme Court in Drew v. Lee, 2011 UT 16, wherein the court held that reports under the prior version of Rule 26(a)(3) are not required for treating physicians.~~

There are a number of difficulties inherent in disclosing expert testimony that may be offered from fact witnesses. First, there is often not a clear line between fact and expert testimony. Many fact witnesses have scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge, and their testimony about the events in question often will cross into the area of expert testimony. The rules are not intended to erect artificial barriers to the admissibility of such testimony. Second, many of these fact witnesses will not be within the control of the party who plans to call them at trial. These witnesses may not be cooperative, and may not be willing to discuss opinions they have with counsel. Where this is the case, disclosures will necessarily be more limited. On the other hand, consistent with the overall purpose of the 2011 amendments, a party should receive advance notice if their opponent will solicit expert opinions from a particular witness so they can plan their case accordingly. In an effort to strike an appropriate balance, the rules require that such witnesses be identified and the information about their anticipated testimony should include that which is required under Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(ii), which should include any opinion testimony that a party expects to elicit from them at trial. If a party has disclosed possible opinion testimony in its Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(ii) disclosures, that party is not required to prepare a separate Rule 26 (a)(4)(E) disclosure for the witness. And if that disclosure is made in advance of the witness's deposition, those opinions should be explored in the deposition and not in a separate expert deposition. Otherwise, the timing for disclosure of non-retained expert opinions is the same as that for retained experts under Rule 26(a)(4)(C) and depends on whether the party has the burden of proof or is responding to another expert. ~~Rules 26(a)(4)(E) and 26(a)(1)(A)(ii) are not intended to elevate form over substance—all they require is that a party fairly inform its opponent that opinion testimony may be offered from a particular witness. And because a party who expects to offer this testimony normally cannot compel such a witness to prepare a written report, further discovery must be done by interview or by deposition.~~

~~Finally, the amendments include a new Rule 26(b)(7) that protects from discovery draft expert reports and, with limited exception, communications between an attorney and an expert. These changes are modeled after the recent changes to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and are intended to address the unnecessary and costly procedures that often were employed in order to protect such information from discovery, and to reduce "satellite litigation" over such issues.~~

Scope of discovery—Proportionality. Rule 26(b). Proportionality is the principle governing the scope of discovery. Simply stated, it means that the cost of discovery should be proportional to what is at stake in the litigation.

In the past, the scope of discovery was governed by "relevance" or the "likelihood to lead to discovery of admissible evidence." These broad standards may have secured just results by allowing a party to discover all facts relevant to the litigation. However, they did little to advance two equally important objectives of the rules of civil procedure—the speedy and inexpensive resolution of every action. Accordingly, the former standards governing the scope of discovery have been replaced with the proportionality standards in subpart (b)(1).

Comment [TP3]: First sentence is quoted by Willis v. Adams & Smith Inc., 2019 UT App 84, ¶ 33, 443 P.3d 1239, 1248

The concept of proportionality is not new. The prior rule permitted the Court to limit discovery methods if it determined that “the discovery was unduly burdensome or expensive, taking into account the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, limitations on the parties’ resources, and the importance of the issues at stake in the litigation.” The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure contains a similar provision. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(2) (C). ~~This method of limiting discovery, however, was rarely invoked either under the Utah rules or federal rules.~~

~~Under the prior rule, the party objecting to the discovery request had the burden of proving that a discovery request was not proportional. The new rule changes the burden of proof. Today, the party seeking discovery beyond the scope of “standard” discovery has the burden of showing that the request is “relevant to the claim or defense of any party” and that the request satisfies the standards of proportionality. As before, ultimate admissibility is not an appropriate objection to a discovery request so long as the proportionality standard and other requirements are met.~~

~~The 2011 amendments establish three tiers of standard discovery in Rule 26(c). Ideally, rules of procedure should be crafted to promote predictability for litigants. Rules should limit the need to resort to judicial oversight. Tiered standard discovery seeks to achieve these ends. The “one-size-fits-all” system is rejected. Tiered discovery signals to judges, attorneys, and parties the amount of discovery which by rule is deemed proportional for cases with different amounts in controversy.~~

Any system of rules which permits the facts and circumstances of each case to inform procedure cannot eliminate uncertainty. Ultimately, the trial court has broad discretion in deciding whether a discovery request is proportional. The proportionality standards in subpart (b)(2) and the discovery tiers in subpart (c) mitigate uncertainty by guiding that discretion. The proper application of the proportionality standards will be defined over time by trial and appellate courts.

Standard and extraordinary discovery. Rule 26(c). As a counterpart to requiring more detailed disclosures under Rule 26(a), the 2011 amendments place new limitations on additional discovery the parties may conduct. Because the committee expects the enhanced disclosure requirements will automatically permit each party to learn the witnesses and evidence the opposing side will offer in its case-in-chief, additional discovery should serve the more limited function of permitting parties to find witnesses, documents, and other evidentiary materials that are harmful, rather than helpful, to the opponent’s case.

~~Rule 26(c) provides for three separate “tiers” of limited, “standard” discovery that are presumed to be proportional to the amount and issues in controversy in the action, and that the parties may conduct as a matter of right. An aggregation of all damages sought by all parties in an action dictates the applicable tier of standard discovery, whether such damages are sought by way of a complaint, counterclaim, or otherwise. The tiers of standard discovery are set forth in a chart that is embedded in the body of the rule itself. “Tier 1” describes a minimal amount of standard discovery that is presumed proportional for cases involving damages of $50,000 or less. “Tier 2” sets forth larger limits on standard discovery that are applicable in cases involving damages above $50,000 but less than $300,000. Finally, “Tier 3” prescribes still greater standard discovery for actions involving damages in excess of $300,000. Deposition hours are charged to a side for the time spent asking questions of the witness. In a particular deposition, one side may use two hours while the other side uses only 30 minutes. The tiers also provide presumptive limitations on the time within which standard discovery should be completed, which limitations similarly increase with the amount of damages at issue. A statement of discovery issues will not toll the period. Parties are expected to be reasonable and accomplish as much as they can during standard discovery. A statement of discovery issues may result in additional discovery and sanctions at the expense of a party who unreasonably fails to respond or otherwise frustrates discovery. After the expiration of the applicable time limitation, a case is presumed to be ready for trial. Actions for nonmonetary relief, such as injunctive relief, are subject to the standard discovery limitations of Tier 2, absent an accompanying monetary claim of $300,000 or more, in which case Tier 3 applies. The committee determined these standard discovery~~ limitations based on the expectation that for the majority of cases filed in the Utah State Courts, the magnitude of available discovery and applicable time parameters available under the three tiered system should be sufficient for cases involving the respective amounts of damages.

Despite the expectation that standard discovery according to the applicable tier should be adequate in the typical case, the 2011 amendments contemplate there will be some cases for which standard discovery is not sufficient or appropriate. In such cases, parties may conduct additional discovery that is shown to be consistent with the principle of proportionality. There are two ways to obtain such additional discovery. The first is by stipulation. If the parties can agree additional discovery is necessary, they may stipulate to as much additional discovery as they desire, provided they stipulate the additional discovery is proportional to what is at stake in the litigation and counsel for each party certifies that the party has reviewed and approved a budget for additional discovery. Such a stipulation should be filed before the close of the standard discovery time limit, but only after reaching the limits for that type of standard discovery available under the rule. If these conditions are met, the Court will not second guess the parties and their counsel and must approve the stipulation.

The second method to obtain additional discovery is by a statement of discovery issues. The committee recognizes there will be some cases in which additional discovery is appropriate, but the parties cannot agree to the scope of such additional discovery. These may include, among other categories, large and factually complex cases and cases in which there is a significant disparity in the parties' access to information, such that one party legitimately has a greater need than the other party for additional discovery in order to prepare properly for trial. To prevent a party from taking advantage of this situation, the 2011 amendments allow any party to request additional discovery. As with stipulations for extraordinary discovery, a party requesting extraordinary discovery should do so before the close of the standard discovery time limit, but only after the party has reached the limits for that type of standard discovery available to it under the rule. By taking advantage of this discovery, counsel should be better equipped to articulate for the court what additional discovery is needed and why. The requesting party must demonstrate that the additional discovery is proportional and certify that the party has reviewed and approved a discovery budget. The burden to show the need for additional discovery, and to demonstrate relevance and proportionality, always falls on the party seeking additional discovery. However, cases in which such additional discovery is appropriate do exist, and it is important for courts to recognize they can and should permit additional discovery in appropriate cases, commensurate with the complexity and magnitude of the dispute.

Protective order language moved to Rule 37. The 2011 amendments delete in its entirety the prior language of Rule 26(e) governing motions for protective orders. The substance of that language is now found in Rule 37. The committee determined it was preferable to cover requests for an order to compel, for a protective order, and sanctions in a single rule, rather than two separate rules.

Consequences of failure to disclose. Rule 26(d). If a party fails to disclose or to supplement timely its discovery responses, that party cannot use the undisclosed witness, document, or material at any hearing or trial, absent proof that non-disclosure was harmless or justified by good cause. More complete disclosures increase the likelihood that the case will be resolved justly, speedily, and inexpensively. Not being able to use evidence that a party fails properly to disclose provides a powerful incentive to make complete disclosures. This is true only if trial courts hold parties to this standard. Accordingly, although a trial court retains discretion to determine how properly to address this issue in a given case, the usual and expected result should be exclusion of the evidence.

Advisory Committee Note

Rule 26.1 was developed by the Family Law Section of the Utah State Bar. It represents the type of discovery or disclosure rule that the advisory committee anticipated when drafting proposed Rule 26(a).

URCP 26.2

Advisory Committee Note

~~This rule requires disclosure of the key fact elements that are typically requested in initial interrogatories in personal injury actions. The Medicare information disclosure, including Social Security numbers, is designed to facilitate compliance with the requirements for insurers under 42 U.S.C. § 1395y(b)(8)(C). See, Hackley v. Garofano, 2010 WL 3025597 (Conn.Super.) and Seger v. Tank Connection, 2010 WL 1665253 (D.Neb.).~~

~~The committee anticipates full disclosures in most cases as a matter of course. However, there may be rare circumstances warranting a protective order in which a party would otherwise have to disclose particularly sensitive information wholly unrelated to the injury at issue, such as a particularly sensitive healthcare procedure or treatment. Information and documents not included in the application for a protective order must be provided within the timeframe of this rule.~~

~~This rule is intended to apply to actions based on personal injury and personal sickness using the broad definitions under 26 U.S.C. Sec. 104(a)(2). This includes ~~applies to~~ wrongful death actions, in which case the disclosures will usually be of the decedent's records rather than of the plaintiff's, and emotional distress accompanied by physical injury or physical sickness.~~

Advisory Committee Notes

The 2017 amendments to paragraph (b)(2) adopt 1) the specificity requirement in the 2015 amendments to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34(b)(2)(B), 2) a portion of Federal Rule 34(b)(2)(C) dealing with the basis for an objection to production, and 3) some clarifying language from the federal note.

Rule 35

Advisory Committee Notes

~~Rule 35 has been substantially revised. A medical examination is not a matter of right, but should only be permitted by the trial court upon a showing of good cause. Rule 35 has always provided, and still provides, that the proponent of an examination must demonstrate good cause for the examination. And, as before, the motion and order should detail the specifics of the proposed examination.~~

~~The parties and the trial court should refrain from the use of the phrase "independent medical examiner," using instead the neutral appellation "medical examiner," "Rule 35 examiner," or the like.~~

The committee has determined that the benefits of recording generally outweigh the downsides in a typical case. The amended rule therefore provides that recording shall be permitted as a matter of course unless the person moving for the examination demonstrates the recording would unduly interfere with the examination. Nothing in the rule requires that the recording be conducted by a professional, and it is not the intent of the committee that this extra cost should be necessary. The committee also recognizes that recording may require the presence of a third party to manage the recording equipment, but this must be done without interference and as unobtrusively as possible.

The former requirement of Rule 35(e) providing for the production of prior reports on other examinees by the examiner was a source of great confusion and controversy. It is the committee's view that this provision is better eliminated, and in the amended rule there is no longer an automatic requirement for the production of prior reports of other examinations.

A report must be provided for all examinations under this rule. The Rule 35 report is expected to include the same type of content and observations that would be included in a medical record generated by a competent medical professional following an examination of a patient, but need not otherwise include the matters required to be included in a Rule 26(a)(4) expert report. If the examiner is going to be called as an expert witness at trial, then the designation and disclosures under Rule 26(a)(4) are also required, and the opposing party has the option of requiring, in addition to the Rule 35(b) report, the expert's report or deposition under Rule 26(a)(4)(C). The rule permits a party who furnishes a report under Rule 35 to include within it the expert disclosures required under Rule 26(a)(4) in order to avoid the potential need to generate a separate Rule 26(a)(4) report later if the opposing party elects a report rather than a deposition. But submitting such a combined report will not limit the opposing party's ability to elect a deposition if the Rule 35 examiner is designated as an expert.

URCP 37.

Advisory Committee Notes

The 2011 amendments to Rule 37 make two principal changes. First, the amended Rule 37 consolidates the provisions for motions for a protective order (formerly set forth in Rule 26(c)) with provisions for motions to compel. By consolidating the standards for these two motions in a single rule, the Advisory Committee sought to highlight some of the parallels and distinctions between the two types of motions and to present them in a single rule.

Second, the amended Rule 37 incorporates the new Rule 26 standard of "proportionality" as a principal criterion on which motions to compel or for a protective order should be evaluated. As to motions to compel, Rule 37(a)(3) requires that a party moving to compel discovery certify to the court "that the discovery being sought is proportional under Rule 26(b)(2)." Rule 37(b) makes clear that a lack of proportionality may be raised as ground for seeking a protective order, indicating that "the party seeking the discovery has the burden of demonstrating that the information being sought is proportional."

Paragraph (h) and its predecessors have long authorized the court to take the drastic steps authorized by paragraph (e)(2) for failure to disclose as required by the rules or for failure to amend a response to discovery. The federal counterpart to this provision is similar. Yet the courts historically have limited those more drastic sanctions to circumstances in which a party fails to comply with a court order, persists in dilatory conduct, or acts in bad faith.

The 2011 amendments have brought new attention to paragraph (h). Those amendments, which emphasized greater and earlier disclosure, also emphasized the enforcement of that requirement by prohibiting the party from using the undisclosed information as evidence at a hearing. The committee intends that courts should impose sanctions under (e)(2) for failure to disclose in only the most egregious circumstances. In most circumstances exclusion of the evidence seems an adequate sanction for failure to disclose or failure to amend discovery.

2015 Amendments.

Paragraph (a) adopts the expedited procedures for statements of discovery issues formerly found in Rule 4-502 of the Code of Judicial Administration. Statements of discovery issues replace discovery motions, and paragraph (a) governs unless the judge orders otherwise.

Former paragraph (a)(2), which directed a motion for a discovery order against a nonparty witness to be filed in the judicial district where the subpoena was served or deposition was to be taken, has been deleted. A statement of discovery issues related to a nonparty must be filed in the court in which the action is pending.

Former paragraph (h), which prohibited a party from using at a hearing information not disclosed as required, was deleted because the effect of non-disclosure is adequately governed by Rule 26(d). See also The Townhomes At Pointe Meadows Owners Association v. Pointe Meadows Townhomes, LLC, 2014 UT App 52 ¶14. The process for resolving disclosure issues is included in paragraph (a).

Subject: Section D working group on Civil Rules

I know Nancy says we probably don't need to be ready on Wednesday, but I thought I'd get the ball rolling with our group by passing along my thoughts on the comments to Rules 41, 43, 45, 47, 50 and 52.

In short, I think we can eliminate all of the comments to these rules (the only rules in our section with comments). Rule 41 explains the history of the rule (it follows the federal rule change) and explains why one section is moved to Rule 52. None of this seems necessary.

Rule 43 encourages telephone hearings. It is unnecessary given the Rule's text.

Rule 45 explains a change from the approved forms contained in the Rules to a form issued by the Board of District Court Judges. It's outdated (Forms are now approved by the Forms Committee) and unnecessary. Folks can find the form on their own. Perhaps retain a reference to "forms for subpoenas may be found at . . ."

47- Is very long and primarily concerns challenges for cause in jury selection. I have to admit I've referred to this frequently, but it really doesn't add anything to the Rule's text. It perhaps gives good context, commentary, and examples for applying the Rule, but isn't that precisely what we are trying to eliminate? The other sections are similar-- they purport to add emphasis and encourage practices permitted under the rule beyond the text of the Rule itself.

50 just quotes the federal rules committee. Doesn't add anything to the text of the Rule itself.

52 explains that the provisions for a ruling in a bench trial after a side has finished its case are now in 52 instead of 41. This seems unnecessary and not particularly helpful.

I look forward to hearing all of your thoughts.
