

1 Rule 30. Decision of the court: ~~dismissal~~; notice of decision.

2 (a) Decision in civil cases. The court may reverse, affirm, modify, or otherwise dispose of any 3 order or judgment appealed from. If the findings of fact in a case are incomplete, the court may 4 order the trial court or agency to supplement, modify, or complete the findings to make them
5 conform to the issues presented and the facts as found from the evidence and may direct the trial
6 court or agency to enter judgment in accordance with the findings as revised. The court may also 7 order a new trial or further proceedings to be conducted. If a new trial is granted, the court may 8 pass upon and determine all questions of law involved in the case presented upon the appeal and 9 necessary to the final determination of the case.

10 (b) Decision in criminal cases. If a judgment of conviction is reversed, a new trial shall be held 11 unless otherwise specified by the court. If a judgment of conviction or other order is affirmed or 12 modified, the judgment or order affirmed or modified shall be executed.

13 (c) Decision and opinion in writing; entry of decision. When a judgment, decree, or order is 14 reversed, modified, or affirmed, the reasons shall be stated concisely in writing and filed with the 15 clerk. Any justice or judge concurring or dissenting may likewise give reasons in writing and file 16 the same with the clerk. The entry by the clerk in the records of the court shall constitute the 17 entry of the judgment of the court.

18 (d) Decision without opinion. If, after oral argument, the court concludes that a case satisfies the 19 criteria set forth in Rule 31(b), it may dispose of the case by order without written opinion. The 20 decision shall have only such effect as precedent as is provided for by Rule 31(f).

21 (e) Notice of decision. Immediately upon the entry of the decision, the clerk shall give notice to 22 the respective parties and make the decision public in accordance with the direction of the court.

23 (f) Citation of decisions. Published decisions of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals, 24 and unpublished decisions of the Court of Appeals issued on or after October 1, 1998, may be 25 cited as precedent in all courts of the State. Other unpublished decisions may also be cited, so 26 long as all parties and the court are supplied with accurate copies at the time all such decisions 27 are first cited.
