ORDER

Supreme Court Case No. 20220618-SC

Court of Appeals Case No. 20220482-
CA

Trial Court Case No. 200907218

The petition for certiorari is granted and the Court of Appeals denial of the petition for interlocutory appeal is summarily vacated on the ground it lacked jurisdiction to consider that petition. The Court of Appeals is further directed to transfer the petition for interlocutory appeal to this Court pursuant to Rule 44 of the Rules of Appellate Procedure. This order should not be construed as making any decision on the petition for interlocutory appeal. This Court (or the Court of Appeals if the petition is transferred under Rule 42) still must determine whether to grant or deny it.
